The screenshot shows the Bentley login interface. At the top, the Bentley logo is displayed in green. Below it, there is a white rectangular box containing the login form. The form has a label "Email Address" above a text input field. The input field contains the email address "teresa.cantrell@vdot.virginia.gov". Below the input field is a green button with the text "Next". At the bottom of the form, there is a link that says "Don't have an account? Register now".

- Click Next
- You will need to enter your login with your password on the next screen

The screenshot shows the Virginia Department of Transportation login page. The page has a blue vertical bar on the left side. The main content area is white. At the top, the text "Virginia Department of Transportation" is displayed. Below this, there is a heading "Sign in with your organizational account". Underneath the heading, there are two input fields: the first contains the email address "teresa.cantrell@vdot.virginia.gov" and the second is a password field with dots. Below the input fields is a blue button with the text "Sign in".
